To Whom It May Concern:

Xin Guan Yuan Ltd is a member company of Zhenhua Electronics Group – the fourth largest telecommunication electronics company in China with over 40,000 employees.

The major issue Chinese companies are facing is the international regulatory compliance when accessing global markets.

In early 2001, we started working with Siemic Labs as our third party international regulatory compliance resources.

Siemic Labs's service is professional, helpful, and cost-effective. We have successfully obtained CE Type-Examination, FCC certification, and approvals from Asian countries for a variety of products through Siemic.

Today, sales in foreign countries reach 30% of our revenue.

Without help from Siemic, Xin Guan Yuan Ltd wouldn't be so successful to have strong sales in global markets. Siemic takes care of our regulatory compliance issues. Siemic service is professional, timely, and affordable.

We appreciate the great contribution from Siemic compliance team to our success.
